Product Disclaimer

Thank you for choosing our organic, small-batch, Vermont-made full spectrum cannabidiol supplements that provide natural support for overall well-being.¹ We value the opportunity to help you find an application of our product that fits your lifestyle needs and preferences. Before using our product, there is important information you should know.

The Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act requires us to inform you that our products are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.

You should consult with a qualified medical doctor or physician when preparing a treatment plan for any and all diseases or ailments. Bird Man, Inc. does not make any health claims about our products and recommends consulting with a qualified medical doctor or physician prior to consuming our products or preparing a treatment plan. It is especially important for those who are pregnant, nursing (lactating), chronically ill, elderly or under the age of 18 to discuss the use of our products with a physician prior to consuming them. General information regarding the use of our products that you may receive from Bird Man, Inc. representatives and/or existing consumers of our products, including any anecdotal or testimonial information about the benefits that other consumers of our products have experienced and informational resources to which you may be referred by Bird Man, Inc. representatives, is not to be construed as medical advice or instruction and has not been evaluated by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

Under the Federal Controlled Substances Act, CBD is currently a Schedule I substance because it is a chemical component of the cannabis plant. Bird Man, Inc. makes no representations or warranties about the legality of its products under the Federal Controlled Substances Act. It is your obligation to understand applicable controlled substances laws and to assume sole responsibility for the legal consequences of purchasing CBD products, including those that may contain trace amounts Tetrahydrocannabinol (THC).

By purchasing Bird Man, Inc. products, you agree to accept the risks associated with using dietary supplements that have not been approved or tested by the federal Food and Drug Administration and you acknowledge your responsibility to consult with a medical doctor or physician who is familiar with your personal health history, who is aware of the medications you are taking, and is aware of any illnesses or symptoms you are currently experiencing.

Bird Man, Inc. maintains the highest standards of quality and stands behind the manufacture of its various product applications, however, the company assumes no
